

In this webinar, international authority on nutrition, ageing and aged care, Ngaire Hobbins will explore why older adults are more vulnerable to COVID-19 and the seasonal flu. She will discuss the challenges facing aged care – residential and community – and share practical solutions to help dietitians overcome these challenges to support the health and wellbeing of our older adults. Utilizing the new quality standards and focusing on the latest evidence, guideline recommendations and developing theories on nutrition and COVID-19, Ngaire will explain the preventative steps to minimize infection risk, maintain capacity during isolation (or semi-isolation) and recovery strategies.
